Hear Grant Simpson's stride piano, and clarinetist Lloyd Artzen's tale of how New Orleans jazz came to Bad Lake, Saskatchewan. There'll be a hot time in old Burns Lake tonight! Don't miss it!

Patricia O'Callaghan

Based in Toronto, Patricia O'Callaghan is a world-class cabaret singer. Her show is an eclectic and theatrical blend of repertoire ranging from Edith Piaf to Rufus Wainright, and from Leonard Cohen to Kurt Weill. Drawing on her knowledge of French, Spanish and German, Patricia peppers her concerts with these languages, with a core of English offering accessibility and a refreshing approach to whatever great song she may be singing. She has four CD's to her credit, and performances on opera and concert stages across Canada. We expect Patricia to be one of the most polished and exciting performers we've presented. Don't miss her show!

Dust Poets

Dust Poets is a five-piece acoustic folk-pop group with Canadian prairie roots. Known for infectious spirit, powerful stage presence, original songs and harmonic singing, the band pokes fun at themselves and the world around them with tenderness and humour. Dust Poets perform the original music of singer-songwriter Murray D. Evans. His wry songs explore themes of home-town losers, wanderlust, love and the absurdity of war with gritty folk-rock, country bluegrass and soaring piano-pop. Dust Poets received a Prairie Music Award nomination for Roots Album of the Year in 2002. "Lovesick Town" was released in 2006, and another album is currently in the works. Y'all come now, y'hear!
