Raine Hamilton Trio

Thursday
evening, March
21st, 2019
7:30 pm
LDSS MPR

Music was something that started early for Raine Hamilton, after seeing world-renowned cellist Yo-Yo Ma on Sesame Street. "I was hooked on string instruments after that. When I was seven, I got my first violin. I told my mom it was the happiest day of my life. I'm classically trained and have a music degree, but also played in fiddle bands growing up. It was really cool to experience both schools of fiddle playing." Raine's trio is combination of vocal agility and power. She is a charming and funny storyteller, and performs songs in English and French with vocal agility and power, and a lyric presence that cuts deep.
